Poems by Mascha Kaléko
and texts from
"FEAR AND MISERY OF THE THIRD REICH" by
Bertolt Brecht

DIRECTOR EMILIIA KIVELEVICH

Project Description

- The project is a musical-theater production dedicated to the life and work of German-Jewish poet Mascha Kaléko. The performance combines her poetry with prose by Bertolt Brecht (the chapter “The Jewish Wife” from his drama Fear and Misery of the Third Reich). The result is an artistic reflection on discrimination, the loss of home, and the resilience of women during those years.
 - The aim of the project is to promote Jewish culture, combat antisemitism, and strengthen intercultural dialogue.

Aktualität

- The project is being carried out to mark the 50th anniversary of Mascha Kaléko's passing. It aims to raise awareness of the fates of Jewish women during the Nazi era, preserve historical memory, and connect diverse communities through art. The production is intended for a broad audience, including educational institutions and cultural organizations across Germany.
- Project partner: Central Council of Jews in Germany.
